

The Art Lab at Creative York

Call for Artists

Creative York announces an open call for The Art Lab gallery. The Art Lab is intended as space to display and cultivate new work in our community and contribute to the cultural growth of York County. We are particularly interested in work that is on the cutting edge of its artistic discipline, that is engaging, interesting, challenging, or that takes a new look at an existing form.

Performance art or installation work could also be a good fit for this space.

The Creative York Exhibition Committee welcomes proposals from creative individuals and groups presenting new or existing work. Priority will be given to projects that connect or engage with Creative York's core exhibition and education programs, audiences, and the York community.

If you are interested in submitting a proposal for The Art Lab, please submit the items listed in the artist application.

There are six Art Lab exhibitions per year. Exhibition dates will coincide with main gallery exhibits.
