

“Everyday People” CALL FOR WORKS

ABOUT

We walk past people every day whose names and stories we do not know. It is up to us to remind one another of the beauty of meeting someone new and learning about what makes them who they are. Art can help us do that by bringing people together to build friendships and a sense of togetherness. Everyday People is a community exhibit open to anyone who wants to connect with others through art. This exhibit is open to all mediums of work.
