

“One Earth” CALL FOR WORKS

ABOUT

There is only one earth we call home, and it's as complex as the humans who inhabit it. We build communities on this planet, destroy them, and fall in love with ideas and people. All of which can inspire your next art piece. Do you believe strongly in the effects of climate change? Are there recyclables at home that you can use for your next project? No matter the medium of art you work in, this earth is yours as much as it is anyone else's. Show us what it means to you.
